SPECIAL MESSAGE ABOUT PORTO RICO

The President Advocates Full Citizenship.

Tells the Congress What He Saw and Heard on Island During His Trip.

PLEASED WITH ITS PROGRESS

Washington, Dec. 11.— President Roosevelt sent his special message on the Panama canal to congress today. The message is as follows: To the Senate and House of Representatives:

On November 21 I visited the island of Porto Rico, landing at Ponce, crossing by the old Spanish road by Cayey to San Juan, and returning next morning over the new American road from Arecibo to Ponce; the scenery was wonderfully beautiful, especially among the mountains of the interior, which constitute a veritable tropic Switzerland. I could not embark at San Juan because the harbor has not been dredged out and can not receive an American battle ship. I do not think this fact creditable to us as a nation, and I earnestly hope that immediate provision will be made for dredging San Juan harbor.

I doubt whether our people as a whole realize the beauty and fertility of Porto Rico, and the progress that has been made under its admirable government. We have just cause for pride in the character of our representatives who have administered the tropic islands which came under our flag as a result of the war with Spain; and of no one of them is this more true than of Porto Rico. It would be impossible to wish a more faithful, a more efficient and a more disinterested public service than that now being rendered in the island of Porto Rico by those in control of the insular government.

I stopt at a dozen towns all told, and one of the notable features in every town was the gathering of the school children. The work that has been done in Porto Rico for education has been noteworthy. The main emphasis, as is eminently wise and proper, has been put upon primary education; but in addition to this there is a normal school, an agricultural school, three industrial and three high schools. Every effort is being made to secure not only the benefits of elementary education to all the Porto Ricans of the next generation, but also as far as means will permit to train them so that the industrial, agricultural and commercial opportunities of the island can be utilized to the best possible advantage. It was evident at a glance that the teachers, both Americans and native Porto Ricans, were devoted to their work, took the greatest pride in it, and were endeavoring to train their pupils, not only in mind, but in what counts for far more than mind in citizenship, that is, in character.

I was very much struck by the excellent character both of the insular police and of the Porto Rican regiment. They are both of them bodies that reflect credit upon the American administration of the island. The insular police are under the local Porto Rican government. The Porto Rican regiment of troops must be appropriated for by congress. I earnestly hope that this body will be kept permanent. There should certainly be troops in the island, and it is wise that these troops should be themselves native Porto Ricans. It would be from every standpoint a mistake not to perpetuate this regiment.

In traversing the island even the most cursory survey leaves the beholder struck with the evident rapid growth in the culture both of the sugar cane and tobacco. The fruit industry is also growing. Last year was the most prosperous year that the island has ever known before or since the American occupation. The total of exports and imports of the island was 45 millions of dollars as against eighteen millions in 1901. This is the largest in the island's history. Prior to the American occupation the greatest trade for any one year was that of 1896, when it reached nearly twenty-three millions of dollars. Last year, therefore, there was double the trade that there was in the most prosperous year un-

NO EXCUSES GO.

Judge Cross Says Cows Must Be Kept Up.

"I will dismiss the case this time," Judge Cross said this morning in police court "but in the future I shall not be so lenient. When the law is violated I shall uphold it no matter what the excuses are." This declaration was made when George Crane was presented for permitting his cow to run at large on the streets. He explained that his cow was pastured in a vacant lot in the rear of his house, and that Saturday some mischievous boys let her out.

REAL WORK

ACCOMPLISHED AT MEETING OF COMMITTEE.

Names of Landlords Leasing to Bad Women Will Be Presented to Jury.

The "frontier committee" met at Chris Miller's tin shop, Sixth and Trimble streets last night and heard a report of the special committee appointed to gather evidence against women who are said to have moved in the First and Second wards from Kentucky avenue. The committee reported that five cases had been discovered and notice was served on all inmates to vacate. Three obeyed the notices but two failed to, alleging that the inmates of the houses were not bad women and that the committee should first have to prove this before they would vacate. A sub-committee was appointed to secure the necessary evidence. Tonight the citizens will hold another mass meeting at the city hall.

As soon as the sub-committee secures evidence it will be presented without further notice to landlords, to the grand jury, probably Wednesday or Thursday morning, and the First and Second ward committee will meet again in the same place Thursday night. The committee members have more work to do in the meeting last night than in any previous meeting.

Forty Drown in Frozen Neva.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 11.— Forty factory workers were drowned this morning while crossing the ice which covered the Neva. The ice broke when about 100 men were in the middle of the stream and but 60 were able to reach shore. Few bodies were recovered as the rushing waters carried them under the ice.

CHILD LABOR

ASSOCIATION WILL BE ORGANIZED TOMORROW.

George W. Walters, of Paducah, and Hon. Louis P. Head are in attendance—Officers.

Final steps in the organization of the Kentucky Child Labor association, will be taken tomorrow at a meeting at the home of the Woman's club, 1312 Fourth avenue, Louisville. George W. Walters, of Paducah, is acting as delegate from the local Central Labor union, and Hon. Louis P. Head, clerk at the Eddyville branch penitentiary, is there. The latter probably will be elected president, while Mr. Walters has been prominently mentioned for the executive committee. The association will work in conjunction with the national organization for the amelioration of the condition of little laborers.

POSTMASTERS-ELECT.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 11.— The Kentucky postmasters' convention elected the following officers: President, Robert E. Woods, Louisville; first vice-president, Frank M. Fisher, Paducah; second vice-president, N. H. Overby, Henderson; secretary, George L. Barnes, Frankfort; treasurer, George W. Hutchisson, Lawrenceburg.

There is only one kind of a newspaper circulation statement that is worth any consideration and that is the daily detailed statement. The Sun is the only Paducah paper printing such a statement.

ACCOMPLISHED GREAT RESULTS

Capt. Koger Pleased With the Prospects for River.

Was One of Delegation to Call on President Who Agreed With Views.

RIVERS FREIGHT REGULATORS.

Captain James Koger returned yesterday from the national rivers and harbors congress in Washington, D. C., to which he was a delegate. The convention has done more to raise internal waterways in importance in the eyes of congress, he thinks, than all other conventions combined. Thirty-one states were represented.

Capt. Koger was among the 280 members of the convention who personally visited President Roosevelt. They found him a most pleasant gentleman on closer acquaintance, and his response to their request for appropriations to improve the rivers, was distinguished by his usual ability to get out of a dangerous situation, for while he agreed to everything, he promised nothing.

It was shown to the convention that freight can be carried by river for one-sixth the cost by rail. It also was shown that river towns have much better railroad rates than inland towns. One delegate told the convention that improvement of the rivers would make better railroad rates than a thousand interstate commerce commissions, because a railroad cannot compete with the river in carrying freight, and make money, without coming to the river rate.

Broadway Repaved.

Broadway from Fourth street to Fifth street is to be repaved with new brick, one of the conditions of the permission given the traction company to double track in this block. The sub-contractors this morning removed all brick from the north side of the street, and are preparing to lay brick. They hope to complete the work before the cold weather is here.

FLOWERS

LITERALLY FILL LATE RESIDENCE OF DR. COLEMAN.

Knights Templar, and Many Professional Men, Accompany Body to Murray.

Expression of popular esteem was manifested in tributes of flowers and in the large attendance at the funeral of Dr. J. R. Coleman this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the family residence, 1625 Jefferson street.

The house literally was filled with beautiful floral designs and every available space was occupied by sorrowing friends. The musical feature was sweet, being led by Mesdames Clarence Sherrill, Henry Overby, Lella Wade Lewis, Miss Letha Puryear and Mr. Edward Scott. The service was led by the Rev. H. B. Taylor, of the Baptist church in Murray.

With commandery, No. 11, Knights Templar, in full dress, acting as an escort, the funeral cortege left the residence at 11:50 o'clock arriving at the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis passenger station at 12:30 o'clock. A special train of three coaches, two passenger coaches and one coach for the body and family, was waiting and the trip to Murray was begun at 12:40 o'clock.

At Murray, the final ceremonies will be conducted by the grand lodge of the Masons, Mr. J. E. Wilhelm, past grand master, officiating, in the absence of Grand Master Samuel Veach of Carlisle, Ky. The local commandery, Knights Templar, accompanied the body to Murray. In the train also were many doctors, lawyers and other friends. Judge W. M. Reed, Dr. J. T. Reddick, J. R. Grogan, Dr. R. T. Lightfoot, were among the professional men who accompanied the body to Murray.

The burial ceremony at Murray will be conducted according to the Blue Lodge ritual. The special train will return this afternoon.

Nightmares are evidently in the dark-horse class.

GRAND JURY CALLS MAYOR D. A. YEISER TO GIVE TESTIMONY.

Mayor Yeiser was called to testify before the grand jury this afternoon. The subpoena was served on him this morning. The purpose is not known, but as Mayor Yeiser submitted to the body a letter concerning an alleged disorderly house, and it is known the grand jury is delving deep into the charges that had houses and gambling resorts are flourishing, it is presumed the inquisitorial body wishes to learn all the mayor may be able to tell it concerning these practices.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

Washington, Dec. 11.— In the senate today, Raynor gave notice that tomorrow he would discuss the Japanese situation, as related to the school question at San Francisco. The president's special message on Porto Rico was then read. Teller introduced bill providing for separate statehood for New Mexico.

THE CHURCH IN FRANCE.

Paris, Dec. 11.—Today the Catholic church in France becomes homeless and awaits eviction.

Twenty-six thousand churches under the law are declared the property of the state Bishops, and the priests' houses, seminaries and schools fall under the same ownership.

PRESIDENT IS HEIR.

New York, Dec. 11.—President Roosevelt is heir to the $10,000 estate left him by Mrs. Lulu Grover, a widow, who, after willing her small fortune to the president, took chloroform and died last night.

BURGLARS BUSY ALONG BROADWAY

Ell Guthrie's Store Entered and Robbed.

Brick Thrown Through Window of Kirby's Store But No Entrance Effected.

SMALL CHANGE IS SECURED

With the approach of Christmas, burglars are getting active in Paducah and last night somebody broke in to Ell Guthrie's dry goods store, 322 Broadway. Entrance was effected through a rear window. A bar was pried off. The thieves molested nothing but the cash drawer, and $1.65 was the booty secured.

Kirby's Window Broken. Probably the same burglars smashed the window of Kirby's ten cent store, 326 Broadway, but no entrance was effected and nothing was stolen.

Chief of Police Collins desired to place plain clothes men in the retail section during the holiday season, but the money for their pay is not available. Hold-ups and purse snatchings are daily expected by the police, and preparations to apprehend this class of criminals are being made.

GLASS FACTORY MAY BE SECURED

Big Plant for Manufacture of Bottles and Flasks.

Would Have Pay Roll of $3,500 the Week and Employ 130 Hands All Told.

MERCHANTS ARE INTERESTED.

Paducah may have a new industry, entirely unique as far as this section is concerned. A glass manufacturer is desirous of locating here a $65,000 plant for the manufacture of bottles and flasks. The land is obtained at Ottawa, Ill., and he thinks the cost of production in Paducah would be as cheap as at any other point within reasonable distance of the supply of sand.

The plant is to employ 130 men with a pay roll of $3,500 the week, the second largest pay roll in the city.

A committee of merchants is now endeavoring to interest citizens in securing the location of the plant. Other cities are offering a bonus to the concern to locate there, and the effort is being made to offset these offers with local capital.

The promoters expect to purchase their own site, and several are in contemplation, one near the Cohankus mills, one near the Paducah box and basket factory, another at the end of Broad street and two in Mechanicsburg.

Glass workers earn a minimum salary of $8 per day, besides the high pay of laborers at the plant, the introduction of such high-class workers with their big wages would give Paducah retail trade a boom.

Baer Will Resist.

Philadelphia, Dec. 11.—All indications today point to a strike on the Reading system. President Baer will not alter his previous stand and will contest various railroad brotherhoods as emphatically and persistently as he has fought the miners' union the last five years.

TOWING COMPANY

ORGANIZED TO OPERATE MARY MICHAEL AND BARGES.

Local Men Organize New Concern With Capital Stock of $10,000—Incorporators.

Articles of incorporation of the E. A. Voight Towing company were filed in county court today. The capital stock is fixed at $10,000 divided into 100 shares of $100 each. Ninety shares are subscribed. The incorporators are: F. W. Katterjohn, Emory A. Voight and John Rock, each subscribing 30 shares. The nature of the business will be general towing.

Mr. John Rock stated today that the steamer Mary Michael and barges will constitute the property of the corporation at present. The Michael was formerly the property of the Paducah Towing company and was sold by Commissioner Cecil Reed for $2,000 with several barges to F. W. Katterjohn. She will be overhauled and made a good boat. Captain Voight is an experienced river man and will look personally to the affairs of the corporation.

RETAIL CLERKS ELECT.

Will Install Officers Second Monday Night in January.

The Retail Clerks' association met last night and elected officers as follows: Sidney Lemon, president; Charles Horton, vice-president; Eugene Patton, second vice-president; Claude Baker, financial secretary and Clarence Bennett, treasurer. The installation will take place on the second Monday night in January and at this meeting the president will select the inner and outer guards, appointive officers.

Five Inquests Held.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 11.—The coroner today conducted five inquests at Flat, Illinois Steel company, South Chicago, over the bodies of workmen killed at the works in the last 49 hours.

SEVENTEEN PICKED UP AT SEA.

Captain, His Wife and Crew of Lost Vessel Rescued by Steamer.

Nassau, N. P., Dec. 11.— Captain Fredericksen, of the Norwegian bark Wellington, his wife and fifteen members of the crew of the vessel were picked up at sea Dec. 3 in an exhausted condition by the Elder-Dempster steamer Sokoto in latitude 35 north, longitude 66 west. The Wellington, which sailed from Gulfport, Miss., Nov. 12 with a cargo of lumber for Rostrio, Argentina, was waterlogged when deserted. The Sokoto will take the rescued persons to Havana.

CLOSE CALL

LOOSE BOLT CAROM S ABOUT CAB OF ENGINE.

Fireman Lilam Lander, of Cairo-Paducah Accommodation, Has Narrow Escape.

Hurled with the force of a shot, a bolt carrying two heavy nuts narrowly missed striking Fireman Lilam Lander, of the Cairo-Paducah accommodation train this morning near Max on station, a few miles west of the city. The bolt came loose from the engine on the right side, struck the rounded head of the tank, and caromed on the fireman's side.

The engine was No. 1196 in charge of Engineer William Burch. The nut was one holding a part of the air brake on the engine and was not served to be loose when the engine started from Cairo. It is directly over the driving rod and when it fell the rod struck it and hurled it straight for the tank. It struck the rounded portion and glanced off towards the fireman, striking the top of the cab near his head.

Castro On Death Bed.

Fort De France, Martinique, Dec. 11.—Reliable advices received here from Venezuela set forth that President Castro was moved down to the little sea-coast village of Macuto, near LaGuayra, last Monday. The president is described as being very ill. He made the trip from Caracas in a bed. When he arrived at Macuto he appeared to be absolutely unconscious. It is generally believed that he has no chance of recovery. Gen. Paredes, an ex-revolutionist, now in exile, is organizing a serious insurrectionary movement, and declares that he will soon take the field. He claims to have 15,000 rifles at his disposal.

GORDON ESTATE

APPRAISERS FILE AN INVENTORY IN COUNTY COURT.

Property Includes Steamers, Barges and Other Chattels Besides Cash in Bank.

Today the appraisement of the estate of the late Capt. E. Gordon was filed in the county court by appraisers James C. Utterback and J. M. McCandless. It follows: Steamer Charles Turner, $4,000; five improved barges, $2,500; two barges, $400; two barges, $200; one flat, $200; contract for towing, $3,000; cash in bank, $200; total, $10,500.

Sherwood Is Elected.

Columbus, O., Dec. 11.—General Isaac Sherwood, Democrat was declared elected to congress from the Toledo district by the supreme court. His election was contested by the Republican nominee who held that an error in the repeating law, prohibiting fusion nominations, invalidated Sherwood's election.

PRINCETON FEELS EFFECT ALREADY

Loans Are Being Called in by Local Banks.

Tobacco Companies Kept Them in Funds and Burning of Warehouses Affects Them.

FARMERS SUFFER THE MOST.

Farmers of the dark tobacco district around Princeton are reaping the whirlwind sowed by the mob which destroyed the warehouses at that place, and financial ruin stares them in the face as the direct result of this act of vandalism. The effect is coming through the banks of Princeton, which have been the most prosperous in western Kentucky, and the consequences bode ill for the future of that city.

It is stated on good authority that within the last week the banks have called in more than $100,000 in loans which affect probably more than 100 farmers, just at a season when they need ready cash. Many of them probably by reason of this pinching of the purse strings will have some profitable venture nipped in the bud. Others may lose all their securities in the way of real estate mortgages, and there seems to be no help for them.

The Gallagher and Imperial tobacco companies whose warehouses were burned, did $1,000,000 worth of business a year. They are buying 300 hogheads of tobacco a day and shipping it out as fast as it comes in. They are withdrawing their accounts.

Tobacco movements require ready cash to meet the deliveries, and the withdrawal of the companies' funds compel the banks to fall back on their debtors and they are pressing the loans to payment to meet their own obligations.

Farmers around Marion, Hopkinsville and other places are hauling their tobacco through two or three counties to dispose of it. Nobody will loan money on tobacco in warehouses or barns, because both are liable to incendiary fires.

The farmers are wrought in a condition of distress and Princeton, which was just enjoying an incipient boom, with real estate active, plans for a new railroad station nearing fulfillment, building going on and money plenty, has received a setback, which is already being felt and from which it may not recover for years.

Some few of the far-seeing ones among the farmers are talking about raising some crop other than tobacco and the prospects are that next year will see a considerable decrease in the acreage in this section.

TO BOTTLE UP YANKEES.

Plan of Foreigners in Bicycle Race.

New York, Dec. 11.—Thirteen teams are going around the saucer track today in a mad endeavor to gain the lead in the six days' bicycle race. All teams with the exception of Waltham and Bedell are running wheel to wheel. The American riders bear the foreign contestants have formed a combination to beat them. Whenever possible the American riders are to be bottled up.

SWITCHMEN INCREASED.

Paducah Men Will Get 4 Cents More the Hour.

Mr. George Finnigan who has just returned from Chicago, reports a raise to the I. C. switchmen in Paducah and other cities on the Louisville division of the road amounting to 4 cents an hour to Paducah yardmen, 42 cents to Princeton yardmen per day, and increase to five Central City switchmen to $27 per month. The night yardmaster at Central City was raised from $75 to $99 per month.

HARRIMAN PLANS BIG OUTLAY.

Will Spend $10,000,000 on Subways and Buildings.

Los Angeles, Dec. 11.—E. H. Harriman has determined, it is stated, to set aside the sum of $10,000,000 for the improvement of the Los Angeles Pacific railway system. It is stated that it is the intention of the Harriman agents to arrange for the construction of a series of subways to parallel Fourth street and that a temporary building will be erected as a terminal station.

PADUCAH LODGE HAS CANDIDATE

L. S. Gleaves for Grand Master of Exchequer.

This City Entertains Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, Next Fall.

SYSTEMATIC CAMPAIGN IS ON

Paducah probably will have a grand officer in the Knights of Pythias of Kentucky if the plans of Paducah lodge do not miscarry.

This city entertains the grand lodge of the state next fall and as it is customary for the hostess city to receive some recognition, Paducah knight are turning their attention to an ambitious office, and Jule Plummer of Newport, who for years has held the position of grand master of the exchequer, will have a contest on his hands.

L. S. Gleaves, the well known furniture dealer, has been selected as the Paducah champion, and from now on a systematic campaign in his behalf will be carried on and strength mustered for him over the state.

GETTING SQUARE DEAL.

Result of Anti-Rebate Fight By Government.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The annual report of commissioner of corporations, James R. Garfield, made public today, devotes special attention to the investigations of the transportation of oil and the operations of the Standard Oil company. A most striking and important result immediately followed the investigation of the bureau, the railroads cancelled substantially all the secret rates, illegal or improper discriminations, in many cases the discriminations in open rates. The shippers of oil advise the bureau that the first time in many years they are now rapidly obtaining equality of treatment from the transportation companies.

Won Strange Bet.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 11.—William Muir, who recently was elected delinquent tax assessor for the city, won a peculiar bet in Magistrate Groves' court yesterday afternoon. Mr. Muir had bet J. M. Gilbert and Dr. Terry Land $50 to $10 that a certain painter of this city would not stay sober long enough to paint the poles of a certain interurban railroad. The money was placed in the hands of Jefferson Harp. The painter began the work in September and finished in November. As it was proven he was not drunk during the time, Mr. Harp turned over the stakes to Gilbert and Land. Mr. Muir, however, claimed that the whole transaction was a joke and sued Mr. Harp for his deposit of $50. His claim was sustained by the magistrate, and Stakeholder Harp was ordered to return the money. It is understood that the winners will pay the amount back to the stakeholder.

Forest Reserve Increases.

Washington, Dec. 11.—Great success has attended the first year's work of the government under the new forest reserve law. In area the reserves were increased during the fiscal year 1905-6, from $5,693,422 to 106,999,138 acres. In revenue they brought in $767,219.96, as against $60,142.62 for the previous year. There is now standing on the reserves not less than 300,000,000 feet of merchantable timber ready for immediate demands. Were no more cut than last year, it would suffice for 400 years.

MONTANA OUTPUT IS $70,677,583

Production of Mines in 1905, Will Be Increased in Year 1906.

Butte, Mont., Dec. 11.—Montana produced in the calendar year of 1905 copper, silver, gold and lead to the value of $70,677,583. These values came from 5,000,000 tons of ore, and the aggregate production was greater by $10,086,736 than the value of the output of 1904. These figures are taken from the annual report of B. K. Tatem, United States assayer at Helena, sent to the director of the mint at Washington and released for publication. Great as is the increase of the output of 1905 over that of 1904, the increase of the present year over that of 1905 promises to be more marked.

What Is Socialism?

A debating society in Manayunk offered last week a prize of $5 for the best definition of Socialism. Among the definitions submitted were the following:

"Socialism means that no man has a right to starve to death where millions are suffering from indigestion."

"Socialism is other people's money."

"Socialism is the selfishness on top."

"Socialism is the revolution of the stomach."

"Socialism is envy legitimized."

The following definition is the one that gained the $5 prize:

"Socialism is a combination of efforts and theories tending to establish legally among all mankind the greatest possible equality of wealth or misery."

mous Arctic explorer, now minister to Great Britain, makes light of the sympathy expressed by many persons among the "hardships" of travelers. He says: "There never was such misplaced sympathy as commiserating a man who has lived in the wilds. Most men who travel in out-of-the-way parts of the earth do so because they like it. People who live in the center of what is called civilization do not understand, cannot realize, the spell that getting close to nature, battling with nature, has on the heart." He does not believe in the use of alcoholic beverages, hold-

SAFETY

MUST BE PARAMOUNT TO FAST SCHEDULES.

Order Issued to Trainmen By Vice President of the Burlington System.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 11.—The safety of the traveling public must be considered paramount and the making of fast schedules must be a secondary consideration hereafter on the Burlington railroad. That is the order which has been sent out to engineers and passenger crews of the road by Daniel Willard, second vice-president. Human life is to be protected, let the result otherwise be what it may. The order coming at a time when there is a craze for fast time, not only on the part of the railroad managements themselves, but also on the part of the traveling public, is likely to astonish the railroad world and give Mr. Willard's circular a prominence rarely vouchsafed to routine instructions to trainmen.

Another rise has started in the river here, the gauge registering a rise of 1.1 in the last 24 hours. The stage is 12.8. There were few packets and towboats in and out of this port last night and today.

The Butteroff will arrive tonight from Nashville and leave Wednesday at noon for Nashville.

Capt. James Koger has returned from the national waterways convention in Washington, D. C.

The John Hopkins arrived this morning from Evansville, and left after handling the freight business, on the return trip.

The towboat Catherine passed up from Cairo last night bound to Louisville.

The City of Memphis did not arrive until today from the Tennessee river and will lie over until Wednesday evening before returning to that river.

There was an old-time sprinting contest on the wharf this morning when a belated passenger and rouster were trying to catch the Dick Fowler, which was pulling out. They got there after scrambling over the Clyde.

The Georgia Lee will leave Cincinnati for Memphis tomorrow.

The Sallito will leave St. Louis for the Tennessee river this evening. Captain L. A. Patton and B. F. Young, of Memphis and Cairo, are in the city today on business.

The steamer J. A. Patton is expected down from Howard's next Friday.

New Packet Line Inaugurated. Chattanooga, Tenn., Dec. 11.—The steamer Chattanooga arrived last night from Louisville three days late. This inaugurates a schedule of the Chattanooga Packet company between Chattanooga and Ohio river points. The steamer is in charge of Capt. E. H. Mathews, of Owensboro.

REFORM POLICE

PLAN OF COMMITTEE OF FIFTY CALLED TOGETHER.

Idea Is to Take Force Out of Politics and Several Schemes Are Suggested.

New York, Dec. 11.—Isaac N. Seligman today announced the names of fifty men who are to compose a permanent committee to develop plans for improving conditions in the police department. He also called a meeting of the committee for tomorrow afternoon, when organization will be perfected, so that bills to carry out the plans may be sent to Albany early in January.

The principal object of the committee is to make the commissioner of police entirely free from political influences. One plan suggested provides that the commissioner shall hold office for life or during good behavior, and be removable only by the appellate division of the supreme court after a public trial. Another provides for a term of from 15 to 25 years, the commissioner to be removed if necessary by the same court after a public trial.

On the committee are Rev. Felix Adler, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia, R. Fulton Cutting, General Horace Porter, Jacob H. Schiff and Robert J. Collier.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth and the Mississippi from below St. Louis to Cairo, no material change during the next 24 hours.

The Wabash, at Mr. Carmel, not much change during the next 24 hours.

Theatrical Notes

AT THE KENTUCKY.

Tuesday—George Sidney in "Busy Izzy's Vacation."

Wednesday—Billy Kersand's Famous Minstrels.

Thursday—"Moonshiner's Daughter."

Friday—Frank Daniels in "Sergeant Bruc."

"Awakening of Mr. Pipp."

If a moral lesson ever can be taught with a laugh, if the sugar coating of merriment does not counteract the effect of the good medicine, then Charley Grapewin and his excellent company of comedians in "The Awakening of Mr. Pipp," constitute a moral force in the dark lesson of the "morning after." But the real purpose of the "Pipp show" is to make one laugh, and it does. The story of the play revolves around the emnity between Mr. Pipp and his mother-in-law. A $10,000 wager rests on Mr. Pipp's total abstinence for one year. On the stroke of midnight at the year's end he finds himself by some of those strange freaks of chance in farce comedy life, in a "Bohemian resort" (whatever that is) and the curtain goes down, showing Mr. Pipp succumbing to the subtle spell of a champagne jag. But the chief merit of the piece centers in act second, the "morning after." In this act, laid in the bedroom of Mr. Pipp, who is awakened by his wife, Mr. Grapewin, as Mr. Pipp and Miss Anna Chance as Mrs. Pipp, hold the stage for eighteen minutes. It is a remarkable and unique bit of acting and the least sophisticated among the audience could not fail to appreciate the sincerity of Mr. Grapewin's work, while those who knew, guffawed in ecstasy of delight, some times even in anticipation of an inevitable situation. Nothing more irresistible than a man going out to buy fish for breakfast and after a night of solid indifference to realities, awakening at home in bed with an unknown tramp and four little gold fish nestling under his pillow, could have been imagined by the audience.

The piece is farcical in its purpose, but the sincerity of the acting gives the performance a touch of seriousness at times, while the introduction of special music and dancing suggests musical comedy. Wholly unique, perfectly irresistible, and satisfactory in finish, is the summary.

Mr. Grapewin is, of course, the essential figure. Anna Chance, as Mrs. Pipp, fulfills the requirements of her part. Bessie Kyle as Tessie Tiptoe, with her singing and dancing, assisted by four dancers is a big hit. Fred Wayne as Mugsy, an impossible messenger boy deserves special mention. All the others are capable and the chorus is handsome, of good voice and beautifully costumed. The safe scene in the first act won merited applause.

George Sidney Tonight.

George Sidney, the clever little comedian, and his big company will commence their "vacation" celebration at the Kentucky theater tonight. It is a celebration for the title of Sidney's offering this season is "Busy Izzy's Vacation," a refreshing and captivating musical comedy of the highest order. None of the ordinary will be found in this musical conceit—all is pure fun, refined frolic, catchy songs, quick rapid fire comedy, embellished with pretty girls, handsome gowns bright scenery and pretentious musical numbers. The show is for laughing purposes only and a large coterie of clever comedians and a big beauty chorus keep the activity up from start to finish. There are many big musical numbers and among the latest are: "On Old Broadway," "Clancy," "Bronco Buster Jim," "Twas Busy Izzy," "Summer Days," "Animal Filtration," "Going Away to California," "Moony Time," "Something Silly," "Dreams," "The Four Lemons," "Be Sure the Girl You Like," "I'd Like to Like a Girl Like you."

Billy Kersands.

The announcement of the coming engagement, in this city of Billy Kersand's Famous Minstrels on tomorrow carries with it a great deal of interest to the theater-goers. The sensational first part this year is a magnificent novelty, representing a mammoth watermelon. The olio is a large and strong one, consisting of: Arthur Maxwell, trick bicyclist; Campbell Bros., black aristocrats; Alonzo Moore, magician; the Comedy Four, Langford, Smith, Johnson and Cameron; the Imperial Drill, by Prof. Thomson; the famous mimic; Billy Nichols; the original and only Billy Kersands, and the world-renowned Alabama Quartette; L. Johnson, hoop roller and Traveller, the human frog.

Frank Daniels on the Bills. Frank Daniels is on the bills at

The Kentucky Friday night. He is still under the successful direction of Charles Dillingham and is appearing in his musical farce "Sergeant Bruc," which has been popular and enjoys the distinction of having been played over a year in London, England and over six months in New York City. "Sergeant Bruc" it is stated is provided with an exceedingly droll plot which brings the comedian to the front as a policeman in a peck of trouble. Funny sifter of the exchequer will have a nation, charming and spirited music, picturesque and varied costumes, elaborate scenery, a large and talented company, and plenty of pretty chorus girls all tend to the making. It is claimed, of a capital attraction.

He was to make his first appearance on any stage in "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Just before the curtain went up he turned to the stage manager. "Are those the bloodhounds howling?" he asked.

The stage manager looked around. "No," he replied; "that's the audience."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"When in doubt" said the weather prophet, "always predict something disagreeable."

SAFETY AND SPEED.

"The safety of the traveling public must be considered paramount to the making of fast schedules."

That is the order of Daniel Willard,
second vice president of the Burlington, to the trainmen, and he says he means it.

An order such as this coming at a time when the world is speed mad
will cause a stir. Mr. Willard commands his men to make haste slowly, but when they make haste thus, the traveling public, at least the portion that uses the Burlington and its connections, also must needs conform to the rule, and it will be interesting to note the effect on the road's business. We venture the opinion that it will have none except to encourage some to travel, who have been staying home in fear and trembling.

There is no doubt the effect of the order will be watched by railroad men with as much interest as by travelers. If it succeeds, other railroads will adopt the same measure in the same degree. Railroad men do not relish excessive speed and excessive dangers to their passengers. They do not like to pay out the company's good money for damages. But the public demands fast schedules.
The public wishes to get to a given destination an hour earlier, and hundreds of lives are wantonly sacrificed.

The Burlington trains will not mope through the land after the manner of the South Carolina narrow gauge along which through passengers gather daisies. It is probable that a person riding in one of its Pullman cars will enjoy the sensation of going through the country at quite a dizzy pace. We trust the order will be carried out to the very letter.
The schedule to eternity is fast enough. The schedule to most earthly destinations is too fast. They amount to the same thing.

The state conference for charities and corrections just adjourned at Louisville would have all charitable and eleemosynary institutions removed from political control. There is reason in the argument, that institutions for the care of unfortunates, who need training or medical attention, should not be subjected to the fortunes of politics, so that the management may inaugurate and pursue a policy in anticipation of a long, uninterrupted term in which to prove the wisdom of its course. But the promptness and unanimity with which the delegates assumed that removal from politics is the specific for all civic ills and devoted their time to the discussion of the best means of accomplishing this end, points to a correction sadly needed in the public mind. Whenever anything wrong is discovered in our political institutions, we cry, "take it out of politics." This hysterical suggestion tends to smirch American politics

with hopeless inefficiency and depravity. If it is meant the institutions should be protected from the frequent changes of administrations, the purpose is well enough, but that is not taking it out of politics. To remove anything from politics is to remove it entirely from control of the people or their representatives.
If the men we elect to office or they appoint are not the equals of those selected by private boards and self-appointed arbiters, whose fault is it?
Instead of always looking to the removal from politics as a remedy for evils, let us look to the removal of evils from politics itself.

Too much prosperity has faded the picturesque hues of Kansas politics.
Opulent prairie farmers mow their crops by steam, ride to town in automobiles and eschew populism. Only 1,100 of the sturdy band that sent Sockless Jerry to congress remained in the middle of the road, and wonder of wonders, they have turned Republican to a man. The leader—and his name is Hanna—said Roosevelt is a good enough Populist for him.
The Populist party was essentially a party of protest. There was a lot of vanity about the principles it advocated, and it was mad at the thought that somebody else was making money, when crops were poor. But the independent farmers that believed in it have done much to lighten party
harshness, and to harken Washington
to the fact that the bone and sinew of the nation demands attention. We laughed at their whiskers and their butternut pants, but out west, where they are doing things, those Populists were a force, they were honest
and they are just as ready to go it alone
again, whenever in their estimation
the occasion demands. Just now they are worrying nights over Andrew Carnegie's casual observation about the disgrace of dying rich.

Gen. O'Reilly attributes excessive drinking in the United States army to the fact that there are no post canteens. That view argues that the farther it is away from us the more we drink. An investigation will reveal the truth that the enlisted men have acquired the habit before they enter the army. A military career is not usually looked upon with favor by American parents. Our army is small and the service purely voluntary. It naturally follows that the recruiting office catches the failures and disappointed ones. The former are the products of drink, the last named candidates for the flowing bowl. In Europe, where an enforced enlistment is the order and soldiers expect to serve their time and return to civil life, they lose none of their home habits in barracks. There is probably no more drunkenness among our professional soldiers than among those of any other nation, except Japan.

We frankly avow our pleasure
at the subdued clatter of cutlery that proceeds from one quarter or another at the mention of every Republican possibility for governor.—Louisville Times.

Of course, you do, you disingenuous little minx. And you and the Courier-Journal
persist in mentioning names
you know will increase the clatter.
The Sun has from the very start admonished the Republican party of Kentucky that a candidate must be chosen, who is free from the taint of factionalism. Especially is this to be desired this year when the solicitude
of the Louisville Times indicates the party has more than an even chance to win. Let the Times suggest Judge James Breathitt, of Hopkinsville, for instance, and note the pacifying effect of his name on the factions.

President Teddy has raised so many children that it was thought he would be opposed to
"income taxes." But his assertion on that subject sticks just the same.—Henderson Gleaner.
That's the point.

Champ Clark calls the president
"chief executioner of the language."
Chiropodist would be more exact.

EFFECTS OF COLD.

The news that Commander Peary
has got as near to the North Pole
as Northallerton is to London encourages the hope that some of us
may yet live to see the pole yield up
the secrets which centuries of explorers
have tried in vain to wrest from her.
Surely never has any goal proved so difficult and elusive! Three hundred years have come and gone since Henry Hudson made his way to withing 587 miles of the North Pole, a distance less than that which separates the North of Scotland from the South of England; but, although scores of gallant explorers followed in Hudson's footsteps, two and a quarter centuries elapsed before the goal was brought perceptibly nearer.
It actually took 225 years to advance 126 miles.

Thirty years ago a sledge party under Marcham and Parr advanced to within 400 miles of the pole; Dr.

Nansen reduced the distance to 261
miles, nearly twenty years later; Capt.
Cagni, a member of the Duc d'Abruzz's expedition, went 22 miles farther; and this record has now been eclipsed by Commander Peary, who has brought the pole within a distance which an express train would cover in three and a half hours.

It is impossible in a short article
to give even in barest outline any description of these numerous attempts to reach the pole; but it will, perhaps,
be interesting to give some account of the hardships the explorers have had to endure from the terrible cold. Dr.
Kane, the famous American explorer of half a century ago, speaking of a temperature of 25 degrees below zero,
says: "The beard, eyebrows, eyelashes
and the downy pubescence of the ears acquire a delicate white and perfectly enveloping cover of venerable hoar-frost. The mustache and under lip form pendulous heads of dangling ice.
Put out your tongue, and it instantly freezes to this icy crust, and a rapid effort and some hand aid will be required to liberate it. Your chin has a trick of freezing to your upper jaw by the lating aid of your board; my eyes have often been so glued as to show that even a wink
may be unsafe.

But the doctor's merry men could afford to smile at only 57 degrees of frost after seeing the thermometer
register 85 degrees below freezing point. On Feb. 22, 1851, they actually gave a performance of a farce,
"The Mysteries and Miseries of New York," when the temperature outside was 46 degrees below zero. "The ship's thermometer outside," says Dr. Kane, "was at 46 degrees; inside, the audience and actors by aid of lungs, lamps and hangings, got as high as 32 degrees, only 72 degrees below the freezing point, perhaps the lowest atmosphere record of a theatrical representation. The condensation was so excessive that we could barely see the performers; they walked in a cloud of vapor. Their hands steamed. When an excited Theopian took off his coat it smoked like a dish of potatoes."

So intense was the cold that, when an actor who was playing the part of a girl, touched a flat iron with one of his bare arms the arm was as badly blistered as if the iron had been red hot.

Sir Leopold McClintock and his men had some terrible experiences
when tramping over the ice fields
with the thermometer 48 degrees below zero. One of the sailors, he records, "was foolish enough one day to discard his mittens when doing some outdoor work. His hands were frozen; and when he plunged one of them into a basin of water in the hope of thawing it the water was frozen solid!"

Another Arctic explorer tells how one day when he was walking, his moustache and beard were converted into a solid block of ice. "I inadvertently," he says, "put out my tongue, and it instantly froze fast to my lip. This being nothing new,
costing only a small pull and a bleeding afterward I put up my mittened hands to 'blow hot' and thaw the unlucky member from its imprisonment.
Instead of succeeding, my mitten itself was a mass of ice in a moment;
it fastened itself on the upper side
of my tongue and flattened it out like a batter cake between the two disks of a hot griddle. It required all my care with the bare hands to release it, and then not without laceration."

That an exceedingly low temperature could be borne without discomfort is proved by Sir Edward Parry's experience. "Our bodies," he says
"appear to adapt themselves so readily to the climate that the scale of our feelings was soon reduced to a lower standard than ordinary; so that after being some days in a temperature of -15 degrees, or -20 degrees, it felt quite mild and comfortable when the thermometer rose to zero" (32 degrees of frost.) But to handle any of the instruments with bare hands
was like touching hot iron, while the slightest breeze caused the exposed parts of the body intense pain.—Tit-bits.

STATEMENT FROM VATICAN.

Rooseveltian Influence Is Denied
Through Official Channels.

Rome, Dec. 11.—Since the recall of Bellamy Storer from the post of ambassador of the United States to Austria-Hungary last March, several attempts have been made to induce the vatican authorities to set forth
what pressure, if any, had been brought to bear upon them from President Roosevelt to make Archbishop Freud a cardinal, and today the vatican declared semi-officially it could make no such statement, as President Roosevelt had never asked anything
through official channels.

Bishop McCabe Ill.

New York, Dec. 11.—Bishop Mc-Cabe, of Methodist church, was suddenly stricken with apoplexy today while walking along the streets. He was taken to the hospital where it was said his chances of recovery are good.

IN THE COURTS

Today a brief session of circuit court was held. The docket was tried for the day's business, and court adjourned shortly after 10 o'clock. Judge William M. Reed rushed business in order to go to Murray to attend the funeral of Dr.
J. R. Coleman.

The case against Jesse B. Moss, charged with misappropriating funds
of Mrs. Linda Crockett, was dismissed.

Suits Filed.

E. D. Thurman filed suit against
L. S. Westbrook and J. T. Walker,
Jr., for the sale of land in the county for a division.

Criminal Docket.

John Callaghan was permitted to plead guilty to cutting John Rook in sudden heat and passion and was fined $50 and costs. He was originally charged with malicious cutting.
Tom Kelley colored, was fined $200 for snuffing gaming. It was a crap game which resulted in Ollie Cattlett shooting Levi Trice, both colored.

Ed Williams and May Thurman,
colored, were arraigned for malicious cutting. It was charged that the former cut Ed Burgess, being incited to the deed by the latter. The fined $50 and costs for cutting in sudden heat and passion.

Wood Jones and Charles Grosshart
were acquitted of the charge of obtaining money by false pretense.
They were charged with selling an overcoat which did not belong to them, to Elzy Everts.

Oscar Hoffman was permitted to plead guilty to the charge of petit larceny and given one month in jail.
He broke into the store house of J.
C. Hast.

In the case of John Isbell, confessed horse thief, who got three years, Henry Singery, the patrolman who arrested him, got a judgment
for $50 reward.

Police Court.

Because Katie Hite called Herbert Whitney a liar when he refused to return a dollar he had slapped out of her hands, claiming he did not have it the latter, it is charged, knocked
the woman down twice and was fined $30 and costs in the police court this morning. The fight occurred at 10 1/2 Broadway.

Claude Benton was fined $20 and costs for being drunk and disorderly.
Other cases: Annie Toliver, colored, breach of peace, dismissed; Albert Winfrey, breach of peace, $5
and costs; Will Gaines, colored, $5
and costs for being drunk and disorderly; and Bertie Keiser, colored, dismissed of a similar charge; Tom Clark, drunk, $1 and costs; Wiley Coleman, colored, carrying concealed a deadly weapon, continued.

Mr. G. C. Crumbaugh went to Louisville this morning on business.

INSANE MAN SLAYS; IS KILLED.

with two pistols today began shooting in a crowded trolley car, killing Harry White, a young man employed at the D. T. & I. car shops; mortally wounding J. D. Van Atta, piano agent of Newark, O., and severely wounding J. E. Kinnison superintendent of the public schools of this city. After half a dozen shots had been fired the man was thrown through the car window. Reloading his pistols, he made his way uptown, pursued by officers and citizens, who shot him
through the head, fatally wounding him, after a running fight. McNeal was twice a patient at the Athens insane asylum, but was not considered dangerous. AM of his victims were strangers to him.

Back in Salton Sea.

Yuma, Ariz., Dec. 11.—The entire Colorado river has found a channel around the Hind dam and is flowing back into Salton sea. Unless the flood can be stopped very soon,
the main line of the Southern Pacific
will have to be rebuilt for 200 miles on higher ground and 1,000 people
in Salton basin will lose their homes.
Not less than $25,000,000 depends upon the success of the effort to close the break.

Crazy Patient Breaks Neck.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Frank Faka, of Pear, Iowa, crazed with pain caused a panic in the Illinois hospital today,
by leaping to his death through the third story window. His leap followed a wild dash through the ward filled with patients. His head struck the cement sidewalk and his neck
was broken.

"Not a truth to art or science have been given,
But brows have ached for it, and
souls toiled and striven.
And many have striven, and many
have failed,
And many died, slain by the truth
they assailed."

The Osteopathic science has been assailed as vigorously as ever any new truth that has been offered the world, but, today it is rapidly coming into its own, as the people become better acquainted with it—know it.

Osteopathy is an evolution of the science of treating disease. It went back to the first principles in nature
for its foundation, and by taking a step backward it has made a great stride forward.

It is merely a common sense
treatment; a method of manipulation to restore the normal conditions of nerve control and blood supply to every organ of the body by removing the physical obstruction, or stimulating, or preventing functional activities, as the condition may require.

The success I have had in Paducah in treating rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness, malaria conditions,
such as the tired-out, run-down feeling, sick, heavy headaches, and stomach disorders are but a repetition of the successes of the science everywhere.

Come to see me at any time, and let me tell you of Paducah people
you know well who will vouch to benefits received from the treatment.
That's the best recommendation I can give you.

NATURE'S WARNING TO WOMEN.

Nature always gives to women a plain warning at the beginning of disease. These warnings are in the form of different pains and weaknesses, but the thing Nature warns you against is always the same—uric acid.

Nearly all women's diseases are caused by uric acid. Yet, did you ever see any uric acid? Then just set a glass of urine away over night and look at it in the morning. This will tell you more of the cause of disease than could be printed in volumes. This uric acid, which you see in the glass, overloads your blood. It settles in the female organs and causes all diseases of women. It is uric acid that causes the backaches, that brings menstrual disorders and pain, and that causes you to grow tired so easily, and that afterwards brings ovarian or womb trouble.

LIFE PLANT EXPELS URIC ACID

LIFE PLANT relieves all women's disorders and diseases. It dissolves the uric acid out of the generative organs, encourages them to become healthy and drives the poison out of your blood. It is the common sense cure of disease that cures by removing the cause of disease—uric acid. LIFE PLANT is a simple, harmless, vegetable remedy. It is used by the greatest specialists in the cure of women's diseases. LIFE PLANT is the greatest blessing science has ever given to long suffering woman-kind.

If you want to know more of this common sense remedy, know more of the common sense cure of disease, write for a free copy of booklet showing the plain road to "Good Health." Get a bottle of LIFE PLANT from your druggist today and write for the booklet.

DEATHS OF A DAY

Mrs. Douglas Page.

Mrs. Douglas Page died yesterday morning at Needmore, Ballard county, of pneumonia, after a brief illness. She had gone there to nurse her mother, Mrs. Laura Roberts, who is suffering from the same ailment. The body has been taken to Carlisle county for burial. The deceased was an aunt of Fire Chief James Wood and the grandmother of Mrs. Horace T. Rivers. A coincidence of the death is the serious illness of Mrs. David Brockman, another daughter, who was taken ill of pneumonia while nursing her mother.

W. M. Tolbert's Infant.

The one-day-old infant of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Tolbert, 732 South Sixteenth street, died of fever last night. The funeral will be held at Benton today.

Shaw Will Relieve Banks. Washington, Dec. 11.—Secretary Shaw will soon come to the relief of the money market. He is not ready at this time to make a definite announcement, but it is known that he has reached the conclusion that some relief should be granted. Within the last day or two several prominent New Yorkers have been in Washington and have taken occasion to talk the situation over with the secretary. Mr. Shaw has consistently used as his barometer of the money market the loans upon gilt-edged commercial paper. He has refused to be stampeded by high rates on call money, but now that first-class commercial paper has to pay 8 per cent. interest, which is in excess of the lawful rates and is arranged by commissions exacted, the secretary agrees that money is legitimately tight and that no manipulation is being attempted by speculative interests. Just when he will issue his relief measure, and the form it will take is not known.

The Great Restorative Non-Alcoholic TONIC

of the day, made entirely of native medicinal roots and without a drop of alcohol in its composition, is known as

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

There are no secrets about its composition --- all its ingredients being printed on the bottle-wrappers.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" not only builds up the strength of the feeble, debilitated, languid, nervous and easily fatigued, whether young or aged, but it enriches and purifies the blood, thus making the improvement lasting.

It corrects and overcomes indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, torpid liver, chronic diarrhea and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Bronchial, throat and laryngeal affections, attended with hoarseness, persistent cough, and all manner of catarrhal affections are cured by the "Golden Medical Discovery."

In Chronic Nasal Catarrh, it is well to cleanse the nasal passages out freely with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" as a constitutional treatment. Old obstinate cases of catarrh yield to this thorough course of treatment.

Through enriching and purifying the blood, the "Discovery" cures scrofulous affections, also blotches, pimples, eruptions, and other ugly affections of the skin. Old open, running sores, or ulcers, are healed by taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" internally and applying Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve as a local dressing. The Salve can be had of druggists, or will be sent by return mail on receipt of 50 cents in stamps. Address Doctor Pierce as below for it.

In short "Golden Medical Discovery" regulates, purifies and invigorates the whole system and thus cures a very large range of diseases.

The reason Why it cures such a varied list of diseases is made clear in a little booklet of extracts from the leading medical authorities, compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and which he will be pleased to send post-paid and entirely free to any who send him their names and addresses.

You can't afford to accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." They are the original Little Liver Pills first put up by old Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equalled. They are tiny sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps (to cover cost of mailing) for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

NO MORE POLITICS FOR UNION LABOR

Frisco Branch Sick of Graft and Corruption.

Realize That Honest Workingmen's and Business Men's Interests Are Identical.

STREET CAR LINE FAILURE

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 11.—The instructions of the Minneapolis convention of Labor to union labor everywhere to go into politics has met in San Francisco, where the members of the union who are honest are actually sick over the disclosures of graft in connection with the successful attempt of the San Francisco unions to get into the political game. The San Francisco unions got into politics about six years ago, and from the stories now coming out before the grand jury investigation, a system of graft and blackmail was organized at the very beginning of the regime and so open has that graft system become that the honest portion of the unions, as well as every business man in the city, has rebelled. And now those from whom the blackmail was taken are declaring that these demands have become so heavy that they must call a halt or go out of business.

No Union Labor in Politics.

There will be no more union labor in politics in San Francisco. Business men and honest labor have, within a fortnight, settled this firmly among themselves. Recent events have effectively killed the idea of running the city government as an adjunct of the graft element of unionism.

For many years San Francisco was known as the strongest "union" town in the country, and when, listening to the arguments of the socialist element of union labor, the unions determined to enter politics, the socialists declared that "now socialism will have a chance to show what it can do for a city. There will be no graft, and every man will get his rights."

The working men of San Francisco were given their chance. For six years they have had the city government entirely in their own hands, and as a result the worst charges ever made against any city government in the United States are now being made against that of San Francisco.

Will Not Vote City Control.

Mayor Schmitt and his colleagues were preparing to submit to a vote the question of the city taking over the entire street car system of San Francisco, and one month ago this scheme might have carried, despite the former experiences of the town along the lines of municipal ownership. But the disclosures of graft in so many departments of the city government have changed public sentiment to such an extent that the voters of San Francisco would not vote to have the city take over any public utility whatever now, and were they not afraid of giving the administration another chance at graft they would go in for selling the portion of the street car system which already belongs to the city. And this sentiment is not alone directed against the present city administration, but, by showing how easily a set of officials can be corrupted, the present situation has turned the most ardent partisans of municipal ownership against that idea.

Owens Car Line.

San Francisco already owns one street car line, and the poor management of its affairs has helped turn public sentiment against permitting politicians to secure any further chance of increasing their graft and making places for their favorites and henchmen.

MORE THAN MONEY TO MANY PEOPLE

May Mean Much Less Sickness Here When Generally Known.

Valuable Prescription and How to Prepare if You Have Kidney or Bladder Troubles or Rheumatism.

SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY.

This is a message that will bring happiness again into many families and sunshine into the lives of hundreds of disheartened and discouraged men and women here. It requires just a little inconvenience, for it can't be bought already prepared. It is a simple home prescription now being made known in all the larger cities through the newspapers. It is intended to check the many cases of rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles which have made so many cripples and invalids and weakenings of some of our brightest and strongest people.

The druggists, one and all here have been notified to supply themselves with the ingredients, and the sufferer will have no trouble to obtain them. The prescription is as follows: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce, and Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle. The dose is one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Recent experiments, even in severe hospital cases, prove this simple mixture the only certain cure for Rheumatism, because of its positive action upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys. It compels these most vital organs to filter from the blood and system the waste impurities and uric acid which are the cause of rheumatism. It cleanses the kidneys, strengthens them and removes quickly such symptoms as backache, blood disorders, bladder weakness, frequent urination, painful scalding and discolored urine. It acts as a powerful stimulant to the entire kidney and bladder structure, puts new life into them and invigorates the entire tract. It makes the kidneys clean the blood. The Dandelion will take care of liver trouble and constipation, and is fine for the stomach.

All the ingredients, states a well-known local druggist, are of vegetable extraction, making it a safe and harmless prescription at any time.

Those who suffer and are accustomed to purchase a bottle of patent medicine should not let a little inconvenience interfere with making up this prescription or have your druggist do it for you. Wherever this prescription becomes generally known states a large eastern publication, it ruins the sale of the patent medicines and so-called rheumatism and kidney cures, which is its best endorsement of virtue.

henchmen.

The Geary street car line here belongs to the city, and it is noted for its miserable service. With the most infrequent and poorest cars in the city, the municipal plant is a shame to its owners. About $300,000 is invested in the venture, and the profits of the system have never yet paid even the interest on the money invested. No sinking fund has ever been started with which to pay off the bonds when they mature, and no repairs are ever made to either the cars, the tracks or the power house. The citizens who foot the bills have wondered where the receipts go to, and the recent disclosures have given them an idea.

And having seen what their representatives have done with the power with which they were invested, union labor in San Francisco is not prepared to go any further towards socialism, but, instead, wants to get out of politics and to stay out of it.

PERSISTENT THIEF STEALS FINE DOG

Hundred Dollar Animal Enticed Away by Hunter.

D. M. Street, of 127 Fountain Avenue, Loses Bird Dog in Broad Daylight.

MRS. STREET SEES THE MAN.

After being foiled in one attempt to steal a fine bird dog from Mr. D. M. Street of 127 Fountain avenue, yesterday morning, the same person is supposed to have returned in the afternoon, and in the second attempt succeeded in getting away with the dog unmolested. The attention of Mrs. D. M. Street was called by a neighbor's cook yesterday morning, to the fact that her husband's bird dog was following a man down Jefferson street. She knew the dog had been locked up in the wood shed, and not having had any orders to release the dog, she followed the man until within calling distance, when a whistle brought the dog back to her on the run. The man did not look around.

After dinner Mrs. Street went to the house where the dog is kept to feed it. When she brought the dog back in the morning she tied it up with a feather strap. On opening the door she found both the dog and the strap gone. This time there was no clue to indicate the thief's course.

The man the dog followed in the morning was white and was dressed apparently in hunting clothes. He was seen near the yard before he was noticed walking down Jefferson street. The dog is valued at $100 and is registered.

"Seeing the Southwest" EXCURSIONS

Doubtless you have heard of the Bumper Crops which have been raised this year in Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Indian Territory, Texas and New Mexico. Have you compared them with results obtained in your section? Is your work where you are, bringing you adequate returns for the capital invested and the labor expended? If not, a change would be beneficial perhaps. A visit to the Southwest will open your eyes. Out in Oklahoma the last big land opening is soon to take place; farms are still very cheap in Western Arkansas, Northern Louisiana and the Gulf Coast of Texas. Let us give you full information about these sections. You will want to see them after you have examined our illustrated literature.

THE REFUGEES

By A. CONAN DOYLE,
Author of "The Return of Sherlock Holmes"

COPYRIGHT, 1923, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"What is so dull as an amusement which has ceased to amuse? I know not how it is. When I was but a lad, and my mother and I were driven from place to place, with the Fronde at war with us and Paris in revolt, with our throne and even our lives in danger, all life seemed to be so bright, so new and so full of interest. Now that there is no shadow and that my voice is the first in France, as France's is in Europe, all is dull and lacking in flavor."

He bowed profoundly three times.

What use is it to have all pleasure before me when it turns to wormwood when it is tasted?

"True pleasure, sire, lies rather in the inward life, the serene mind, the easy conscience. And, then, as we grow older is it not natural that our minds should take a graver bent? We might well reproach ourselves if it were not so, for it would show that we had not learned the lesson of life."

"It may be so, and yet it is sad and weary when nothing amuses. Who is that knocking?" asked the king.

"What is my companion," said madame. "It is my companion," said madame.

"M. Cornille, to read to the king," said the young lady, opening the door.

"Ah, yes, sire; I know how foolish is a woman's tongue, and so I have brought a wiser one than mine here to charm you. M. Racine was to have come, but I hear that he has had a fall from his horse, and he sends his friend in his place. Shall I admit him?"

"Oh, as you like, madame, as you like," said the king listlessly. At a sign from Mlle. Nanon a little peaky man with a shrewd, petulant face and long gray hair falling back over his shoulders entered the room. He bowed profoundly three times and then seated himself nervously on the very edge of the stool, from which the lady had removed her workbasket.

"Shall it be a comedy, or a tragedy, or a burlesque pastoral?" Cornille asked timidly. "There is my 'Pretended Astrologer.'"

"Yes, that will do," Cornille commenced to read his comedy, while Mme. de Maintenon's white and delicate fingers picked among the many colored silks which she was weaving into her tapestry. From time to time she glanced across, first at the clock and then at the king, who was leaning back, with his lace handkerchief thrown over his face. It was twenty minutes to four now, but she knew that she had to put back half an hour and that the true time was ten minutes past.

"Tut, tut!" cried the king suddenly. "There is something amiss there. The second last line has a blip in it surely." It was one of his fables to pose as a critic, and the wise poet would fall in with his corrections, however unreasonable they might be.

"Your majesty is perfectly right," said Cornille unblushingly. "I shall mark the passage and see that it is corrected." He picked up his book again and was about to resume his reading when the king said:

"M. Cornille, I am obliged to you for what you have read, and I regret that I must now interrupt your comedy. Some other day perhaps I may have the pleasure of hearing the rest of it." He smiled in the gracious fashion which made all who came within his personal influence forget his faults and remember him only as the impersonation of dignity and of courtesy.

The poet, with his book under his arm, slipped out, while his majesty said to madame:

"I see by your clock that it is 4 o'clock. I must go."

"My clock, sire, is half an hour slow."

"Half an hour!" The king looked dismayed for an instant and then began to laugh. "Nay, in that case," said he, "I had best remain where I am, for it is too late to go, and I can say with a clear conscience that it was the clock's fault rather than mine."

"I trust that it was nothing of very great importance, sire," said the lady, with a look of demure triumph in her eyes.

"By no means."

"No state affair?"

"No, no; it was only that it was the hour at which I had intended to rebuke the conduct of a presumptuous person. But perhaps it is better as it is. My absence will in itself convey my message and in such a sort that I trust I may never see that person's face more at my court. But, ah, what is this?"

The door had been flung open, and Mme. de Montespan, beautiful and furious, was standing before them.

CHAPTER VII.

MME. DE MAINTENON was a woman who was always full of self restraint and of cool resource. With a frank smile of greeting she advanced with outstretched hand.

"This is indeed a pleasure," said she. But Mme. de Montespan was very angry, so angry that she was evidently making strong efforts to keep herself within control and to avoid breaking into a furious outburst. She disregarded her rival's outstretched hand and turned toward the king, who had been looking at her with a darkening face.

"I fear that I intrude, sire."

"Your entrance, madame, is certainly somewhat abrupt."

"I must crave pardon if it is so. Since this lady has been the governess of my children I have been in the habit of coming into her room unannounced."

"As far as I am concerned, you are most welcome to do so," said her rival, with perfect composure.

"I confess that I had not even thought it necessary to ask your permission, madame," the other answered coldly.

"Then you shall certainly do so in the future, madame," said the king sternly. "It is my express order to you that every possible respect is to be shown in every way to this lady."

"Oh, to this lady?" with a wave of her hand in her direction. "Your majesty's commands are of course our laws. But I must remember that it is this lady, for sometimes one may get confused as to which name it is that your majesty has picked out for honor."

She was superb in her pride and her fearlessness as she stood, with her sparkling blue eyes and her heaving bosom, looking down upon her royal lover. Angry as he was, his gaze lost something of its sternness as it rested upon her round full throat and the delicate lines of her shapely shoulders.

"There is nothing to be gained, madame, by being insolent," said he.

"Truth is always mistaken for insolence, sire, at the court of France."

"You forget yourself, madame. I beg that you will leave the room."

"I must first remind your majesty that I was so far honored as to have an appointment this afternoon. At 4 o'clock I had your royal promise that you would come to me. I cannot doubt that your majesty will keep that promise in spite of the fascinations which you may find here."

"I should have come, madame, but the clock, as you may observe, is half an hour slow, and the time had passed before I was aware of it."

"I beg, sire, that you will not let that distress you, I am returning to my chamber, and 5 o'clock will suit me as well as 4."

"I thank you, madame, but I have not found this interview so pleasant that I should seek another."

"Then your majesty will break your word?"

"Silence, madame! This is intolerable!"

"It is indeed intolerable!" cried the angry lady, throwing all discretion to the winds. "Oh, I am not afraid of you, sire. I have loved you, but I have never feared you. I love you here, I leave you with your conscience and your own lady confessor. But one word of truth you shall hear before I go. You have been false to your wife, and you have been false to your mistress, but it is only now that I find that you can be false also to your word."

She swept him an indignant courtesy and glided with head erect out of the room.

The king sprang from his chair as if he had been stung. Accustomed as he was to his gentle little wife and the even gentler La Valliere, such language as this had never before intruded itself upon the royal ears. And then his whole soul rose up in anger at her, at the woman who had dared to raise her voice against him. He gave an inarticulate cry of rage and rushed to the door.

"Sire!" Mme. de Maintenon, who had watched keenly the swift play of his emotions over his expressive face, took two quick steps forward and laid her hand upon his arm.

"I will go after her."

"And why, sire?"

"To forbid her the court."

"But, sire—"

"You heard her! It is infamous! I shall go."

"But, sire, could you not write?"

"No, no; I shall see her." He pulled open the door.

"Oh, sire, be firm, then!" It was with an anxious face that she watched him start off, walking rapidly, with angry gestures, down the corridor. Then she turned back and, dropping upon her knees on the prie-dieu, bowed her head in prayer for the king, for herself and for France.

De Catlan, the guardsman, had employed himself in showing his young friend from the water all the wonders of the great palace.

BAD RECORD MADE FOR DRUNKENNESS

American Army Shows Larger Per Cent Than Any Other.

Army Officers Attribute it to Fact That There Are No Canteens at Ports.

COLORED TROOPS TEMPERATE

Washington, Dec. 11.—The statistics as made up by the surgeon general of the United States show that the percentage of drunkenness in Uncle Sam's army is greater than that of any other country.

The figures given in the annual report of General R. H. O'Reilly, the surgeon general, for the fiscal year 1906, show that out of every 1,000 soldiers 29.65 cases of alcoholism are sent to the hospitals for treatment every year.

As compared with other countries this is a remarkable showing. The British army is next on the list and it shows only 2.1 cases of alcoholism in every 1,000 soldiers. The lowest percentage is that shown by Spain, the figures of which are put at .08 in every 1,000 men.

The average percentage of alcoholism in the United States army for the years 1898 to 1903 was 21.54, showing an increase as given in the last report of 8.11 over the average for the five years previous.

The report also shows that the colored troops are much more temperate than the whites, the latter having a percentage of 28.89, while that of the colored troops is shown to be only 9.01 in every 1,000.

General O'Reilly's Views.

Various opinions are expressed as to the cause of such wide difference between the United States army and those of other countries. General O'Reilly in referring to this particular part of his annual report said:

"I have not gone into the matter very fully and to get at the causes of what appears to be a very unfavorable showing in the United States army as compared to the armies of other countries I would have to go into the records very thoroughly. Generally speaking, however, I am of the opinion as are also a number of other army officers, that the abolishment of the canteen is in part responsible for the increase shown in the past few years."

KITTENS FOR PRESIDENT.

Woman Wills Them and Tries to Commit Suicide.

New York, Dec. 11.—Lulu B. Grover, aged 45, who describes herself as a magazine writer, was taken to a hospital tonight suffering from chloroform poisoning. Her condition is critical. There is some doubt as to the identity of the woman. The police believe her to be "Mrs. Gove," who just prior to the Roosevelt-Longworth wedding was forced to leave the white house and latter attempted to see the president at Oyster Bay. The police found a letter addressed: "To the corner or first police officer who finds my body here:

"I beg of you to telephone to President Roosevelt. He will have my body cremated. I have written to him, made my will, all I have is his. He will have everything attended to just as I wish it. He knows where to find everything. Please do not let my poor kittens be frightened or annoyed. President Roosevelt will take them as soon as he receives the letter."

der the Spanish regime. There were 210,273 tons of sugar exported last year, of the value of $14,186,319; $3,555,163 of tobacco, and 28,290,322 pounds of coffee of the value of $3,481,102. Unfortunately, what used to be Porto Rico's prime crop—coffee—has not shared this prosperity. It has never recovered from the disaster of the hurricane, and moreover, the benefit of throwing open our market to it has not compensated for the loss inflicted by the closing of the markets to it abroad. I call your attention to the accompanying memorial on this subject, of the board of trade of San Juan, and I earnestly hope that some measure will be taken for the benefit of the excellent and high grade Porto Rican coffee.

In addition to delegations from the board of trade and chamber of commerce of San Juan, I also received delegations from the Porto Rican Federation of Labor, and from the Coffee Growers' association.

There is a matter to which I wish to call your special attention, and that is the desirability of conferring full American citizenship upon the people of Porto Rico. I most earnestly hope that this will be done.

I cannot see how any harm can possibly result from it, and it seems to me a matter of right and justice to the people of Porto Rico. They are loyal, they are glad to be under our flag, they are making rapid progress along the path of orderly liberty. Surely we should show our appreciation of them, our pride in what they have done, and our pleasure in extending recognition for what has thus been done, by granting them full American citizenship.

Under the wise administration of the present governor and council, marked progress has been made in the difficult matter of granting to the people of the island the largest measure of self-government that can with safety be given at the present time. It would have been a very serious mistake to have gone any faster than we have already gone in this direction. The Porto Ricans have complete and absolute autonomy in all their municipal governments, the only power over them possessed by the insular government being that of removing corrupt or incompetent municipal officials. This power has never been exercised save on the clearest proof of corruption or of incompetence—such as to jeopardize the interests of the people of the island; and under such circumstances it has been fearlessly used to the immense benefit of the people. It is not a power with which it would be safe, for the sake of the island itself, to dispense at present.

The lower house is absolutely elective, while the upper house is appointive. This scheme is working well; no injustice of any kind results from it, and great benefit to the island, and it should certainly not be changed at this time. The machinery of the elections is administered entirely by the Porto Rican people themselves, the governor and council keeping only such supervision as is necessary in order to insure an orderly election. Any protest as to electoral frauds is settled in the courts. Here again it would not be safe to make any change in the present system. The elections of the elections this year were absolutely orderly, unaccompanied by any disturbance; and no protest has been made against the management of the elections, although three contests were very small and error was claimed; the contests, of course, to be settled in the courts. In short, the governor and council are co-operating with all of the most enlightened and most patriotic of the people of Porto Rico in educating the citizens of the island in the principles of orderly liberty. They are providing a government based upon each citizen's self-respect, and the mutual respect of all citizens; that is, based upon a rigid observance of the principles of justice and honesty. It has not been easy to instill into the minds of people unaccustomed to the exercise of freedom, the two basic principles of our American system: the principle that the majority must rule, and the principle that the minority has rights which must not be disregarded or trampled upon. Yet real progress has been made in having these principles accepted as elementary, as the foundations of successful self-government.

I transmit herewith the report of the governor of Porto Rico, sent to the president thru the secretary of state.

All the insular governments should be placed in one bureau, either in the department of war or the department of state. It is a mistake not to so arrange our handling of these islands at Washington as to be able to take advantage of the experience gained in one, when dealing with the problems that from time to time arise in another.

In conclusion let me express my admiration for the work done by the congress when it enacted the law under which the island is now being administered. After seeing the island personally, and after five years' experience in connection with its administration, it is but fair to those who devised this law to say that it would be well-nigh impossible to have devised any other which in the actual working would have accomplished better results.

WORMS

"I had for years suffered from what medical men called Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach. In August I purchased a box of Cascarets and was surprised to find that I had 'em'—yes—a widening, squirming mass left me. Judge our doctor's surprise when I showed him thirty-five, and in another day the remainder about the same length of a tape worm that had been sapping my vitality for years. I have enjoyed the best of health ever since. I trust this testimonial will appeal to other sufferers."—Chas. Blackston, 1219 Dinty Place, West Philadelphia, Pa.

POOR HOUSE WILL BE OPENED JAN. 1

Arrangements Will Be Completed at Meeting Dec. 18.

Hospital Ward Will Be Fully Equipped for Any Sort of Surgical Work.

TWENTY INMATES ARE READY

January 1 is the date set for the opening of the county poor house, and on December 18 the fiscal court will make arrangements for the event. The firms securing contracts for furnishing the building have been instructed to have all goods delivered by that date.

When the county poor house is finished the county will support an institution the complement of Riverside hospital. In the administration building will be the operating rooms of the county physician. It will be fitted out in elaborate style for any kind of surgical work. There is talk of equipping the hospital ward with all necessary instruments so that the county physician will not be handicapped in any way in the future.

William Thompson, keeper of the poor farm, has moved into his quarters in the administration building, and is preparing the new poor house for service. There are about 20 inmates.

OLD TIME FAVORITE

Will Visit Scene of Former Baseball Triumphs.

Saturday a man whose name is familiar to every baseball fan in western Kentucky will be in Paducah. He is Andy Kolley, an old-time Paducah ball player who played ball in Paducah when the game was young, and who incidentally made a reputation which will never die in sporting circles. Andy Kolley was a member of the Paducah team when it defeated the St. Louis and other big city teams. There were no teams the Paducah aggregation would not go against. Bill and Andy Kolley, brothers, were the stars, and it was in those days that the rivalry of Paducah and Cairo developed. When the Dovey boys, one now being a manager in the National League, played in this section, Andy Kolley was running second to nothing in the fielding line. Every one was after him, but he was faithful to Paducah. Andy Kolley will visit relatives in Paducah, the first trip made here in years.

CULBERSON'S ARGUMENT

Against Bonaparte Causes Delay in Confirmations.

Washington, Dec. 11.—Opposition to Charles J. Bonaparte as attorney-general, prevented the confirmation of William H. Moody as assistant justice of the supreme court of the United States when his nomination was called up today in executive session of the senate. The opposition to Mr. Bonaparte was based on the speech made by him in Chicago in September, 1899. In that speech Mr. Bonaparte declared that legislative action in regulation or restraint of combinations was undesirable. When the Moody nomination was reported by the committee Senator Culbertson called attention to the fact that the position he is to vacate will be filled by Mr. Bonaparte. Senator Knox, formerly attorney-general, said that he had talked with Mr. Bonaparte and had found him thoroughly in sympathy with the administration in breaking up combinations of capital which operate in restraint of trade.

COAL FAMINE.

Has Twenty Kansas Towns in Its Clutch.

Topoka, Dec. 11.—With the thermometer hovering around the zero point in many towns of southwest Kansas and with no coal to keep themselves from freezing if the cold wave continues, the residents are making arrangements to meet the emergency by congregating in churches and public school houses to avert possible death from exposure.

The situation has become so desperate that an appeal has been made to Governor Hoch to exert his official power to procure a supply of fuel for the sufferers. Petitions already have come to the governor from Meade, Liberal, Cimarron and other towns.

It is authentically reported that twenty towns in that region are virtually without coal for heating or cooking purposes. Necessity has driven the people in several places to burn corn to ward off actual suffering.

COMPLIMENT

TO METHODIST WOMEN OF PADUCAH IS PAID.

Dr. Blackard Explains Mistake in Local Paper That Was Copied in Other Towns.

The Methodist of December 5, published at Fulton, Ky., contains the following statement from the Rev. J. W. Blackard, D. D., of Paducah, presiding elder of the Paducah district, in regard to some facts in Paducah Methodism:

"The Paducah paper from which you took a clipping, was in error, when it stated that Broadway parsonage was rented, and that Dr. Bolling would return to Nashville and later rent a house in Paducah and move his family into it. On the contrary, the noble women of Broadway have thoroughly overhauled their neat brick parsonage, put in new carpets and many new articles of furniture, and today have free blazing in every grate and a most sumptuous feast and a hearty welcome waiting for the coming of Dr. Bolling and his family. A similar reception also awaits the coming of Dr. Banks at Trimble street parsonage. These Paducah Methodists know how to do things. This writer has never served a people for whom he entertained a higher appreciation. Our district stewards met last Friday and assessed the salary for the presiding elder and apportioned the connectional claims to the several churches in the district. Out of the 22 churches in the district 16 have new preachers. There seems to be very general satisfaction on the part of the people and preachers. You can safely predict that there is going to be something doing in the Paducah district this year."

Factories Close; 30,000 Starving.

Lodz, Russian Poland, Dec. 11.—By the recent closing down of factories here 30,000 persons are without food, demonstrations by lawless persons are increasing, and the feud between the nationalist and socialist laborers is being renewed. Laborers during the past two days have killed five nationalists and wounded fifteen.

It is well to investigate an oil well that won't bear looking into.
